

PROFIDATA GROUP

Press Release

Urdorf, 8 December 2016

Asset management arm of a German insurance group opts for Profidata's investment management system XENTIS

The company will deploy XENTIS as the central system for handling the many different workflows involved in portfolio and risk management. The role of XENTIS will be to standardise and automate these processes and modernise the existing system landscape, which is characterised by a large number of inhouse solutions. The key reasons for choosing Profidata were the integrated solution model and the functional capabilities provided in the XENTIS Front and Middle Office.
